

DATALINK

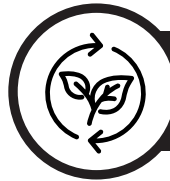

DATA MANAGEMENT PROGRAM

The Datalink program is operated by FarmRx, the precision agriculture division of NuWay-K&H Cooperative. Our goal with Datalink is to assist growers in maximizing ROI for every acre while providing year-round support. Through the program, you will receive personalized in-season data tailored to your farm when it's needed most. You'll also receive geographically-relevant benchmarks during critical periods to inform your decision-making. By combining customized insights with regional perspectives, Datalink aims to help each customer achieve higher productivity and profitability per acre.
